CFA Research Challenge Update

Congratulations to TU’s CFA Research Challenge team: Hoàng Đinh, Madeline Soukup & Aleks Rapp! In only the second year to compete in the US Southwest Region, they were one of 10 teams to be invited to the presentation stage in a region of 27 universities from Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana. All universities produced an analyst report on Andeavor (ANDV). They presented their report in front of a panelist of judges in Dallas on SMU’s campus on February 17th. Job well done!

Graduate Programs

We are actively recruiting for our graduate programs for the fall semester. In addition to the MS in Finance, we have two new degree programs that are available. The Collins College of Business has launched a MS in Business Analytics. This program focuses on the analysis, interpretation, and prediction capabilities of large sets of data. In addition, the School of Finance has developed a MS in Quantitative Finance, which combines the grounding of financial analysis with the analytical tools of mathematics and data analytics. Both of the new programs will equip students to take advantage of new analytical techniques in Finance and other disciplines.

Internships and Mentoring

Your support of the Finance department through contributions to the Finance Excellence Fund is very much appreciated. It helps build the endowment for future scholarships for finance students and supports the resources our finance students and faculty need to succeed in their classes and careers.

Another way to support the finance students is through internships and mentoring. While our students receive a world-class education at the University of Tulsa, adding experience to the education helps develop these students by putting into practice what they have learned, and gaining the guidance and experience of area professionals as they begin and continue to advance in their careers.

If you have an internship opportunity for a finance student, whether it is a summer internship or one that occurs during the academic year, please contact Joel Harper (joel-harper@utulsa.edu, 918-631-3426) in the School of Finance and he will be happy to help find the right student for your internship.

Another way to have a substantial impact on a students is to serve as a mentor to a student as they complete their education and begin their career. Providing career advice, discussing next steps, letting students know about your experiences and successes provides a real connection to students that will help them advance now and in the future.

CFA Scholarship Recipients

Amina Bibi, Mahitha Dadireddy, Thomas Kerwin and Jie Sheng have received scholarships to take the Level I CFA exam in June. The globally recognized Chartered Financial Analyst designation represents expertise in the field of investment and portfolio management. These four students will be committing additional hours of study on top of their coursework to prepare for the exam. Congratulations to these students and Best wishes on their exam preparation.
The 2017-18 Finance Excellence Fund Campaign is well underway. Last year 88 donors contributed to the Finance Excellence Fund. Our goal is to have at least half of our non-student members contribute to the Finance Excellence Fund. The Fund supports student scholarships, resources for students in the Risk Management Center, and activities of the School of Finance, Operations Management and International Business. Contributions also help grow the Student Investment Fund that awarded over $150,000 in scholarships and provided almost $100,000 in support for the Risk Management Center. Contributions of any size significantly impacts the education of Finance majors and provide opportunities to students they would not have otherwise.
